

Large Crowd Turns Out Saturday To Welcome Santa Claus To Lacombe

Old St. Nick Receives Over 400 Letters; Will Be Here Again This Saturday; Surprise in Store for Those Writing Him

What a time the kiddies had! Santa Claus with two of his Brownies arrived in Lacombe on schedule last Saturday afternoon, and was greeted with enthusiasm by hundreds of children from Lacombe and the surrounding country at his new Headquarters on Nanton Street. So dense did the throng become that two policemen had to divert the traffic from Nanton Street for a short time, while the excitement was at its height. Arriving from the North, Santa and his Brownies were welcomed by Mayor T. Wilkes and Town Councilor W. C. Sweet, at the Town limits, and transferred to Santa's own conveyance, piled high with boxes of toys and sweets.

On the rounds of the business section of the town he and his Brownies threw candy bars to the children. Finally landing up at his headquarters, each of the smaller children and those in the arms of their parents were given a candy bar by Santa.

On enquiring by mail box, Santa informed the Globe that he had received 437 letters, and every child writing him is requested to write to him at his Headquarters next Saturday at 11 a.m. for Santa's answer, and the big surprise. He will be there all day, handing out his letters, in answer to the children's letters.

Santa informs the Globe that he got a big kick out of some of the letters he received, and had quite a job answering them all. Again he asks the Globe to inform the children writing him to put their full name and age in the letters sent. Santa has turned over to the Globe several letters which did not give him this information, and wants these children to write him again.

Here are the letters:

"Dear Santa Claus—I am writing for my little sister, she is 3 years old; her name is Genevieve, and wants Santa to bring her a party of friends on Gull Lake on Sunday afternoon. Mr. Henderson caught one of his skates in a crack in the ice, throwing him heavily to the ice and breaking two bones in his left leg. He was rushed to the hospital by Jack Morrison immediately after the accident. He is at present a patient at the Lacombe and District Community Hospital.

Another letter reads: "Dear Santa—Will you please send me a toy truck." Signed Bobby.

The mother of the letter says: "Dear Santa—Please give me something for Christmas. I would like a train very much."—Kenneth.

Any letters received since Tuesday will not be answered until Saturday, Dec. 17.

Santa Claus compliments Lacombe on the nice headquarters, all decorated up with Christmas trimmings and colored lights, provided for him, and asks the Globe to tell all the children he will be there with his Brownies again all day next Saturday, Dec. 17, and every day from Monday, Dec. 19, to Saturday, Dec. 24.

At the present time, no full time Health Unit services are offered in the municipalities directly to the east of the M.D. of Crown.

Findlater poll clerk, with the polling booth at the U.F.A. Hall in Alix. In Division 3, W. Claxton was appointed as deputy returning officer, with the polling booth at the Haynes Community Hall.

Miss Mildred Ritson brought several sprigs of pussy willows into the Globe office Tuesday to show the "pussies" peeping out of the buds, which she picked southeast of town. Check your calendar and you will show you this is still December—but still with pussy willows.

Lacombe to Meet Wetaskiwin Here Saturday Night

Information received from the hockey club executive late this morning (Thursday) is to the effect that, unless the weather gets colder, no ice will be available for the game scheduled for Saturday.

Lacombe hockey team members, with the first game of the season under their belts and some good stiff practices, are all ready to face the Wetaskiwin sextette in the first game of the league, to be played in Lacombe Saturday night, commencing at 9:15 p.m. Len Tomalty, former Red Deer player, will act as player-coach of the Lacombe team this year. With Ken Stewart, formerly of Edmonton, in the nets, W. Hoppus lining up well with Tomalty on defence, Lacombe is strong behind the blue line, with a real scoring threat in their forward lines of Havestock, Roberts and Cliff, and Chapman, Code and Irish.

With other players such as George Brooks, Doug Carr and George Ross to call on, the local team stacks up as a strong outfit.

Wetaskiwin has a real team this year, but the Lacombe outfit is much stronger than the last-year aggregation. It should be a first game. Let's all get out and support the boys in their first home game of the season.

$3,000 Already Pledged for Church Organ, Mortgage

Enthusiasm over the prospect of being able to purchase the new Hammond Electric Organ which was demonstrated in St. Andrew's Church over the week end, and at the same time wipe out the long standing manse debt, has been steadily rising among members, adherents and friends of the church, and pledges have mounted until the $3000 mark was touched on Wednesday forenoon, and it is expected that by Thursday night sufficient pledges and cash will be on hand to see the matter closed.

Large crowds turned out on Sunday and Monday evenings to hear the organ. Dr. T. H. Powell of Calgary was the speaker on Sunday evening and in addition to selections by the choir, A. R. Brien sang "The Mission of the Gates of the Temple." The service was followed by a demonstration of the organ, with Mrs. R. Bryden of Edmonton as organist.

Organ Recital Monday

Several selections by choir members interspersed the organ recital which was held on Monday evening. Miss Margaret Watt sang "The Mission of a Rose," J. Shaw sang "Kilnary," Mrs. John MacDonald favored with "Bonnie Mary of Argyll" and A. B. Rhind with "Lord of the Sea." Mrs. R. Warren was the accompanist and Mrs. H. Bryden played for the recital.

It is expected the organ will be in the church for next Sunday's services, and there will be a song service at 7:15, followed by the usual annual Vesper service by the three C.E.T. groups. The Young People's Choir will be in attendance.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 8, 1938

For United Action

TOMORROW night (Friday) a meeting of the electors of the Lacombe constituency will be held here in the Church Hall. This is being called purely in an effort to form some unified stand among the so-called "old line" parties in this constituency. The meeting is no way connected with the Unity League of Alberta. No outside speakers will be present. Everyone interested in the formation of a united front is being asked to attend the meeting and voice their opinions on the subject to be discussed.

This meeting was called by men big enough to realize that party should not come first. The Province should come foremost—not the name of the party, whether it be Liberal, U.F.A. or Conservative. For those who want unified action in this constituency; for those who are big enough to realize that the Province of Alberta, and not the Government, is the paramount issue of any election, this meeting is being called.

Are you big enough?

Utterly False

REPORTS of Indians in Canada starving for lack of food; cruelty to Canadians Indians and abuses of this race in Canada occupied the front pages of several German newspapers recently. It is reported by the Canadian press. It is evident that Herr Hitler disliked recent and current references in the Canadian newspapers pertaining to Germany's Jewish persecutions, and drew, from his own fount of imagination, reports of abuses of the Canadian Indians. The notation at the end of this entirely imaginative and erroneous report by Minister of Propaganda Goebbels, in which he asks Canada to "look after its own minorities" before casting slurs on Germany's Jewish persecutions, would be laughable were it not so utterly vindictive.

Last week a number of Indians from the reservation at Hobbema were guests at the Experimental Station here. They were shown every consideration; the model farm and points of interest at the station were explained to them. One of these Indian youths wrote a letter of sincere appreciation for the courtesies of the Experimental Farm to officials of the station.

To Indians, courtesies similar to this are everyday affairs, but in the light of Germany's recent false press attack, they are lifted from the humdrum of common events to become stones to cast back the lie into Germany's teeth.

Redistribution of Seats

(From the Viking News)

A GESTURE towards the long-awaited reduction in the membership of Alberta's legislative assembly has been made at the current session of the House, but the move does not promise much hope of a reduction to a number in line with that of other western legislatures.

On motion of Hon. W. A. Fallow, the House has set up a committee to take up the work of redistributing the constituency boundaries, on the basis of population shifts, geographical considerations and community interests.

The committee will also inquire into possibilities of a reduction of the number of ministers with portfolios, and the appointment of a number of ministers without portfolio to represent major agricultural interests and geographical areas.

Though calling for a "substantial reduction" in the membership, the adopted motion limits the scope of such reduction to a minimum of 56 and a maximum of 63 (the present membership).

While reduction to the proposed minimum would be a step in the right direction, if it could be effected against the opposition of existing ridings, it would still leave the Alberta Legislature out of line with other legislatures.

Saskatchewan, with a population of 939,000 against Alberta's 778,000, has but 52 M.L.A.'s. British Columbia, with 771,000, has 48. Manitoba with 717,000 has 55. Ontario, with a population four times that of Alberta, has 90 M.L.A.'s.

Thirty-four members, two for each existing Federal riding, would be adequate representation.

Through the Eyes of a Country Woman

By BRIDGET

This is the week when all good Canadians with Old Country connections are busy buying remembrances to be sent to their own folk, many thousands of miles away. The number of parcels and cards enroute to Europe is colossal, only equalled by those coming from European countries to this Canada of ours. At Christmastime the bonds of our respective homelands seem a trifle stronger, and we yearn to be "all together" again. This is right, and as it should be, for to forget one's childhood surroundings would be to lose a vital part of one's natural make-up.

This rather cuts two ways. With the British settlers, and those of British descent, it all means for a stronger bond, a yearning, parental feeling towards our Motherland; a desire to build a great Empire within an Empire; a carrying-on of age-old traditions, peculiar to Britain and the British; a yearly strengthening of our determination to keep the British flag flying, undisturbed and unafraid before the whole world.

But, . . . and this is a difficult question to raise, as it is a most delicate one. If the proximity of Christmas engenders these feelings in the breasts of those of British birth, how does it affect our fellow Canadians from other lands? Don't they have their own countries too? This question is rather important in view of present events. Papers of naturalisation are obtained by persons, sometimes barely able to speak English, in fact, some are not even desirous of trying to learn to speak the language of their adopted country.

Many "herd" together in one locality, trying to rebuild a replica of the country they have left behind. At Christmas they will congregate, and celebrate, in their respective old country styles, and talk of their Motherland, and the folks they left behind. This is admirable in some respects, and I do not doubt that these people will probably become very fine Canadian citizens, giving to the people of Canada the best of the culture and traditions of their respective lands. To what extent would these good Canadian citizens be able to become patriotic British subjects in time of stress? This is not a frivolous question, but is asked in all seriousness, as it has very vital and far-reaching possibilities. It is natural enough to be grateful to the country which is providing a good living and a pleasant refuge from a turbulent world; but would this bond be enough to sever all the bonds which tie these new Canadians to their original lands, if trouble should come? Blood is thicker than water. This problem takes on a new and startling aspect when one reads that philanthropists are advancing the settling of Germany's unwanted Jews in large blocs throughout the world. Sums of money are being raised to buy for them vast tracts of land, where it is proposed that they should work out their own salvation. It seems a dangerous procedure, and one fraught with enormous possibilities. It is akin to that of the settlers who try to re-create their own country in new surroundings; and it is also dangerous in that it has the beginnings of a future "minority problem." Does this sound staggering? Have we not already experienced trouble with the Doukhobor settlements in Eastern B.C.?

There are large settlements of other nationalities dotted all over the country, and it is logical to expect that these are liable to increase. If a settlement of 10,000 Jews is brought into one country, in no time this number can be doubled or trebled. In sparsely populated territories like Canada, and Eastern Africa, the voice of thirty thousand is a strong voice, and one that has to be listened to with respect; and so, within the space of a few years many of the members of the British Commonwealth of Nations may each have their own "minority problem." It is easier, I know, to be hindsighted than foresighted. But, the plight of the poor, wretched Jews themselves, and the Czechs, should curb our enthusiasm, and make us pause and consider very deeply where we are heading. We would not wish to leave as a legacy to our children a "minority" question of that sort; anyway, we are leaving them problems of a like sort which may well become vexatious and difficult of solution.

I cannot finish this column without a reference to the plight of the Jews, who are now, it is proposed, to be used as barter to improve German trade, and to liquidate themselves in the process of being settled somewhere else by other nations at "non-Aryan" expense. The Germans will retain their blood-money, the Jewish businesses, their savings, and their homes. Hitler is the first person to prove that one "can eat one's cake and have it." But, "it is a strange world, my masters," strange that the rest of the world is falling over itself to get a kind word from Germany, and licking the hand that all decent-minded people must despise.

So, at this season, when peace and goodwill abound, we might, perhaps, go a little way towards solving this problem, if we tried to gather into our own circles these new Canadians, and not be as insular as the homing instincts of Christmas tend to make us. Really it all resolves itself into a spirit of true co-operation, for, after all, we are all human beings, but rather apt to think our special "brand" is best. Kindness, tolerance and understanding would go a long way towards blending these different ideals and customs into one harmonious whole.

value the meaning of freedom; to be ready and prepared against wanton aggression of swash-buckling international gangsters."—Godfrey Haggard, British Consul-General at New York.

"It is my conviction that municipal government is the finest instrument of democracy that has been devised. All those who take an interest in it—as voters and taxpayers—become more solid and useful citizens for the experience."—Hon. Eric Cross, Minister of Municipal Affairs.

"If tourists are made to feel like suckers they won't come back."—Hon. Colin Campbell, M.P., Minister of Public Works in Ontario.

MORE ABOUT THE SCHOOL QUESTION

Editor, Lacombe Globe: Dear Sir.—The epithet "sp" hurled at our inspectors of schools by "Another Ratepayer" in your issue of Dec. 1 seems peculiarly inappropriate and a poor recompense for years of conscientious work. Nowhere (with the possible exception of the land of our Minister of Education's ancestors) is the spy so cordially disliked as in Alberta.

The rural municipal convention at Calgary Dec. 1 voiced strong protests against what it termed the autocratic exercise of power by the Minister of Education and passed a resolution condemning in no uncertain terms the creation of Larger School Units without the consent of the ratepayers. Our neighboring provinces apparently have sufficient acumen not to thrust a highly expensive experiment on an unwilling electorate during the worst depression in history.

In the Lac St. Anne School Division organized in 1937, teachers are unpaid and threaten to strike. School districts in that unit have had their taxes increased in some cases from 5 to 10 mills or 100 per cent. Officially the strike is blamed on two Municipal Districts. One is 12 months in arrears with school taxes and the other nine months. For the 151 M.D.'s in the province school taxes average over two years in arrears. Individual Municipal Districts average from nine months to four years in arrears, yet the rural schools were always able to carry on.

Under the new set-up, M.D. of Crown's school tax will be increased well over 30 per cent, with a further fore-taste of taxation contained in the School Act, Section 248 (C), 4 and 5:

"It shall be the duty of local trustees to raise money by voluntary subscription to provide equipment approved by the superintendent and not provided by the divisional board."

Since 1935 Alberta's taxes have annually increased. They are now $8,000,000, or 74 per cent higher. In 1933 at the Church Hall, Lacombe, a school teacher advised us of his monetary woes, "true as the gospel." The monetary provisions of the B.N.A. Act were to be evaded by a non-negotiable certificate. Albertans were to be the most fortunate people in the universe.

Many of us are at a loss how that wonderful certificate has disappeared, possibly it has become relegated to its proper sphere, a la the Bentley "credit house."

What does the future hold for Alberta with aristocratic free spending officialdom?—unsuccessful tours of their districts hat in hand for local trustees.

Municipal councils will be overworked searching for money to attic the homes of those unfortunate applying for relief, while M.L.A.'s shall complacently murmur, "I don't know."

RATEPAYER.

DICTATORSHIP?

Editor, Lacombe Globe: Dear Sir.—There can be none but who deplores the fate of the Jews under Nazi and Fascist dictatorship. But many of those loudest in their protests preserve an eloquent silence as to the fate of the victims of our own financial dictatorship.

And, just as Jewish persecution is defended as being essential to the well being of Nazism, so the persecution of millions of our own people is held to be necessary for the preservation of a financial system the most cruel, the most evil because the most subtle, of all dictatorships.

In answer to the complaints of ruin and suffering brought about by financial policy, an eminent banker cynically observed "it is a healthy purge"—a statement I venture to believe he yet will realize was an unhealthy parody.

I remember, in the winter of '31 and '32, while staying near Vancouver, seeing every neighbourhood of exposure rightly forbidden for animals, with depression refugees whose only crime was in having no money and no means of obtaining any. But I do not remember any serious protests from institutions spiritual or temporal.

Great Lakes Fish Conservation Is Sought

OTTAWA.—Correspondence looking toward a treaty for the conservation of fish in the Great Lakes has begun between Canada and the United States. It is reported here.

Frank Bell, United States Fisheries Commissioner, at Washington advocated such a treaty this week. Many types of commercial fish in the lakes are facing extinction unless conservation measures are taken, he said. Fishing interests in Canada and the United States are said to be eager for regulation that will preserve the industry.

are demanded from German Jews by Nazi dictatorship—a mere fraction of what was extracted from British Jews and Gentiles by the dictatorship of finance through its policy of deflation (sound money), which has left a trail of debt, destitution and disease, rivaling those legacies of the Great War.

"A healthy purge" say the financiers and their "eminent" chorus, economists only in the use of common sense and in mental integrity.

We cannot bring effective pressure to bear upon Germany. We cannot even defend ourselves—we have no money.

Nor are we justified in judging Germany—until we set our own house in order.

Let those who would end Jewish persecution in Germany cease fighting those who would end financial persecution in Canada and join with them in demanding an end to dictatorship by finance—the main cause of war and the sole cause of poverty in the midst of plenty.

Sunny Crest Specs

By SPY

SUNNY CREST. — Last week someone must have scared on the deer on Herb Wood's C.P.R. quarter. One fine big fellow leaped the fence north of the Woods house and stood by the garden fence, gazing at the house. Then it bounded away across the plowing, to leap the pasture fence and head for the brush in the south-west corner. We know anyone who is trying to shoot these deer are liable to be fined. They have been seen in many places lately.

Last Sunday Messrs. Abel, Schmidt and Weiss were dinner guests with Mr. and Mrs. H. Woods. Mr. Weiss spoke at Sunny Crest and Aspen.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Barr, Mrs. B. F. Barr and Raymond were Edmonton visitors on Dec. 5.

Rev. C. E. Thomson, president of the Northern Bible College at the Northern Bible College will be the guest speaker at Sunny Crest on the morning of Dec. 11. Those who have heard Mr. Thomson will be glad to hear him again. He plays the concertina, so we will be assured of music. Mr. Thomson will also preach at George Fernie's Hall, Aspen Beach, at 2:30 in the afternoon, Dec. 11.

Jim Morris has been staying with his son Melvin lately.

Mrs. McNeill's brother, Alex Swanson, left for Scotland Monday afternoon. We wish him a fine journey.

The Birch Lake W.I. met at the home of Mrs. J. A. Rowley on Thursday, Dec. 1, with all members and two visitors present. Owing to this being the last meeting of the year, the members decided to disband as the membership was too small to carry on.

On Jan. 5 there will be a meeting held at the home of Mrs. E. Boddy, the purpose of which is to decide whether the ladies would like to organize a club or in what way they would like to meet. All interested in a women's rural meeting are cordially invited to attend.

We are congratulating Mildred McKay on winning a prize for obtaining high averages in Grade IX, last year. The prize was given by the Lord Lasselles chapter, L.O.D.E.

Tees Tattle Tales

By TATTLE

TEES.—Tees news ten years ago: After an absence of several years, Don Belknap returned to prove that his diving for water wells had not been improved by his sojourn in British Columbia. Just a decade ago, Dec. 1, 1928, commenced a well for B. M. Armstrong. Since that time he has dug or located several flowing wells, in addition to many that didn't quite overflow. During this intervening period, Donald has never hit a dry hole, when after water.

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Nelles motored to Calgary over the week end to partake of an early Christmas dinner and final re-union of Mrs. Nelles' family. The occasion for this is the departure just before Christmas of a sister, Mrs. S. C. Thorpe, and family, for New Zealand.

Reg. Wilkinson, popular young bachelor, severed the remaining links in the chain of single blessedness on Sunday when he became the husband of an equally popular young lady, Miss Grace Thomas. The ceremony took place in Lacombe at the Church of England, reported elsewhere in this paper.

How Stories Start

Last week the small children were out playing during school hours and a local citizen, whose eyes and hearing have failed a little, questioned one of the children. One child said that as the teacher had a bull on her eye she had let them out early. The old boy misunderstood and thought the lad said the teacher had a boy, and passed on that information, much to the discomfort of both teachers. On being straightened out, apologies were tendered.

Beauty for YOU

The Secrets of Good Looks

by Barbara Lynn.

YOUR HAIR

Women's hair is more than ever their "crowning glory." A dull and faded head of hair detracts from a woman's appearance. And there's really no excuse for anything of the sort, nowadays, even if there ever was!

The secret of really shining hair is brushing—vigorous, persistent and frequent brushing. Don't be afraid to brush your hair, even if a few strands do come out. No matter how healthy your head and hair may be, some hairs will fall out each day. It is when the hairfall becomes excessive that remedial treatment is necessary.

Keep your hair brushes immaculately clean; wash them often. This is important. And in brushing your hair be sure to brush away from the head—not down on it.

After you have brushed your hair, put a drop or two of brilliantine on the brush and impart it to the hair that way. This will add the finishing touch, and ensure that you have a lovely sheen.

Dandruff is the chief hair worry. And despite general belief, it is NOT caused by dryness, but by a germ in the upper layer of the skin. A good hair tonic should be used to eradicate it, whilst tightly-fitting hats should be avoided, for they restrain ventilation and aggravate the disease.

If you have dry hair, scalp massage is called for, and here is the method to use: Place your fingers firmly on your scalp and rotate the scalp itself—but do not rub. Continue this treatment for a week or two, twice a day, and then gradually reduce the number.

Province of Quebec Aids Handicapped in Rehabilitation

MONTREAL.—The Province of Quebec will soon undertake to rehabilitate workmen injured in industrial accidents by training them for other work, according to J. H. A. Paquette, Minister of Health. Until now the Provincial authorities have neglected this problem.

Terry C. Foster, Research Agent of the Office of Education at Washington, who discussed the United States program of vocational adjustment for the handicapped, declared at a meeting here that it was far cheaper to correct physical defects and to train people in new occupations than to permit them to be a burden upon relief rolls.

Your Commentator, JACK MCCAUGHERY

Dink Carroll in the issue of Liberty for Dec. 3 gives the true facts and light on the Canadian football situation in presenting his article, "Should Canadian Football Go American?" It's a dandy summary of the holly-disputed question, giving both sides in answer to the West's streamlined game and the East's standard rules. The East seems to be worried that the West is Americanizing the rugby game in Canada far too much, while we in this section of the Dominion wonder why those of the East don't discard hoop skirts and button shoes and precedent. Mr. Carroll thinks the two sections should quit quarrelling and get together in an effort to improve the game. The Canadian game should not go American but at the same time that does not say the Canadian game can't be improved.

And the West is ready and willing to improve the game—in fact they have already made some vast improvements to speed up the game over that of the Eastern rules.

"My son wishes to become a chauffeur. What do you advise?"
"Well, personally, I wouldn't stand in his way."

THE lecturer was being introduced to different members of the audience. At last he came to Mrs. Smith.
"Ah, the wife of Mr. Smith, I presume?"
The woman hesitated. "Well, or, one of them," she acknowledged.
